Thanks Sonja. Sorry I didn't get back to you earlier. [REDACTED] has a fair chance of going; it is an older case. Thanks for the update. Bob.

FYI - The ADA in Taunton has moved her case from 10/19/11 to 12/12/11, so I will be available for the [REDACTED] case scheduled for that day.

Hi Bob-

I'm curious if you know how likely the [REDACTED] case is to actually go on October 19th as I have an ADA in Taunton who has inquired about my availability that day. I informed her about your case, but also told her I would try to find out the status of it as well. Thanks.

I don't think that case is going. I am in the process of confirming that. Thanks for being in touch.

No Fall River today, so I'm not expecting any problems if you need me tomorrow.

Bob-

Just wanted to inquire about the [REDACTED] case scheduled for trial on 9/22/11 to see if anything has changed and if you think the case will actually go to trial. My Wareham case is still scheduled for that day, but as I previously mentioned, we've never actually had to testify there. The only possible dilemma would be if I have to go to Fall River for court today (I'm on call) because I may spend the night at my parent's house in RI, and then want to check in with Wareham before heading back. If your case is still a go, I would either come back out west right after Fall River or first thing in the morning. And it isn't written in stone by any means that I will have to go to Fall River at all. Thanks.
